

J1 Visa Program

How to Report an Incident or Emergency

The Spain-U.S. Chamber of Commerce (SUSCC) is a non-profit organization authorized by the Department of State to sponsor Program Participants in the Intern or Trainee Categories under the J-1 Visa Exchange Visitor Program. The SUSCC is focused on the personal and professional development of young people. Since 1999, the Chamber has provided young professionals with the opportunity to supplement their professional and educational knowledge with a specific internship or traineeship in the United States.

The Exchange Visitor is the SUSCC's number one priority. The health, safety, and welfare of you, and your dependents is crucial to experiencing a successful J1 Visa Program.

The following page is a simple guide on what to do if you are in an emergency. If you have any doubt about what to do during an incident or emergency, dial 9-1-1 immediately.

For incidents that do not require the help of first responders, please contact the SUSCC J-1 Visa Department. In case of a true emergency, you can reach us at 917 704 2064 at any time. Please be as detailed as possible when describing incidents via email or phone.
